PTI Press Release

OUR HIRING TEAM HAS FOUND ANOTHER WINNER

Today is another great day at Process Technology, Inc. We are excited to announce another key hire within our organization. Mike Celis has accepted the position of Applications Engineer for our home office in Salt Lake.

Mike comes to us from the manufacturing side of the industry, specializing in the oil and gas arena. He recently worked for REOTEMP Instruments managing distributors of temperature and pressure instrumentation for their Midwest region. Mike also managed REOTEMP's international business, specifically in Latin America, where he dealt with state oil monopolies. He speaks Spanish fluently and can also read & write the Portuguese language.

Mike comes to us from "perfect weather" San Diego and is currently engaged. He has an 8-year-old daughter who is his everything. Being the best parent he can be is very important to him. In his spare time, he produces music for independent artists and for many years after high school was a musician himself. Once he has established residency in Utah, his goal is to go back to school and obtain his Bachelor of Science in Physics.

Welcome aboard, Mike! We are excited to have you in our family.

Regards,

Chris Wheat
